GLOUCESTER HARBOR, 1606.

From a map first published in France in 1613. Represents the harbor as it first appeared to Champlain, an early French navigator, who visited it in 1606, and named it "Le Beauport."

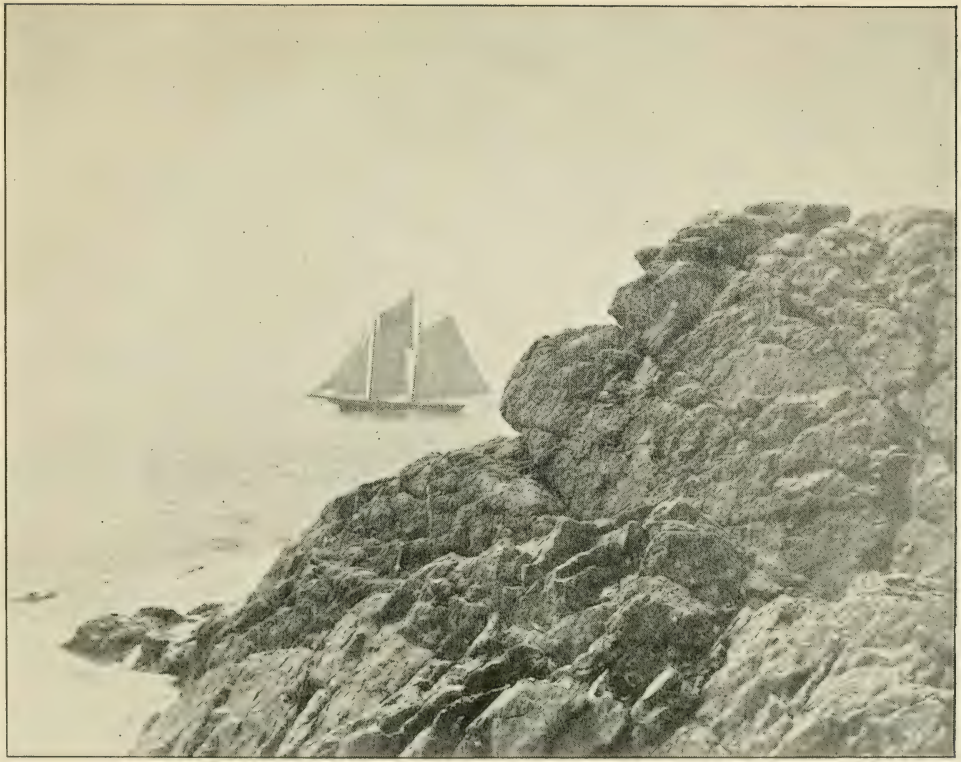
View of Gloucester, 1892, from the high lands of East Gloucester, with the inner harbor in the foreground.

THE ELLERY HOUSE,

At the "Green." Supposed to be the oldest house in the city. Built by Rev. John White, about 1705; sold to James Stevens and used as a public tavern until 1740; then bought by Capt William Ellery, and still in possession of his descendants.

THE CITY HALL.

Built 1870, at a cost of $100,000. Contractors, D. Somes Watson and Albert S. Currier. Size of building, 90x100 feet. Seating capacity of hall, 1200. Tower, 159 feet high. Tower clock and bell the gift of Mr. Samuel E. Sawyer.



MOTHER ANN — at the extreme end of Eastern Point.

At the turn of the gray and the green,
Where the new road runs to the right
For the summer people's ease
And on to the scarlet light—
Shapen of stone and of chance,
Carven of wind and of time,
Stands the woman of Eastern Point,
Haunting my heart and my rhyme.
Wind-blown and grief-worn and brave,
Gazing the sad sea o'er,
Dumb in her life and her death,
Spirit of Gloucester shore.

Phelps-Ward.

Wharves and Fish Flakes, East Gloucester. A typical modern fishing establishment.
